ANOTHER RAILROAD DISASTER-SAFETY SWITCHES DEMANDED.—The newspapers on Saturday chro-nicled another accident on the Harlem Hailroad, which was caused by the carelessness of a switch-tender. The locomotive attached to the train was thrown down an embankment, crushing the life out of the freman and seriously injuring the engineer. The baggage and smoking cars also sustained considerable damage. The accident was caused by the switchtender displaying the signal lights indicating "all right," without changing the switch after the passage of the New Haven train. This is only one of a number of similar casualties which are happenor a future of small casuaties which are nappen-ing daily in this country, which show the necessity for the adoption by the various railroad companies of safety switches. Of those now in existence the switch patented by William Wharton, Jr., is pro-minent. It has the following merits, which establish the fact that with its universal adoption no such accident can happen.

Neither rail of the main track is disturbed by it, both are unbroken and solid; in fact, the switch castings which gave an additional strength render the lings which gave an additional strength fender the task at the point of its introduction safer than at any other place; therefore, so far as the main track is concerned switches are entirely dispensed with This is the only railroad switch that accomplishes that most important object. Perfect security is given by its use to trains traversing either the main track or the siding, even though the switch is, by actrack or the siding, even though the switch is, by ac-cident or design, left wrong; nor is there any injury done to the switch itself.

THE SUNDAY TIMES appeared yesterday reduced In size, but much improved in appearance. The typography was a specimen of neatness, whilst the news was placed before the readers in compact but attractive style. To all appearance the change is decidenly for the better, and if the new pupilisher succeeds in making the future issues as readable as this one, his ambitious aims will doubtless be as this one, his ambitious aims will doubtless be realized.

colonel Taggart is an old newspaper man, naving, during his journalistic life, travelled over the greater portion of the United States. His contributions, in the shape of special correspondence, have always been of avery pleasant, readable nature, and well received by the public; besides this, he had a previous experience of some years as a newspaper publishes which is manuscript so much cash cantal lisher, which is, in a measure, so much cash capital in hand. Under his management there is a good prespect of the Times proving a success,

TROUBLE IN THE DEER PER.—Yesterday morning the king deer, in the Deer Pen, at Fairmount Park, concluded he would take a stroll towards George's Hill. The only obstacle to this proceeding was the wire railing. This the antiered animal soon overcame and started on: his course, however, was soon shortened by one of the Park Police. Whilst all this was going on a victous canine, noticing the absence of the "Boss," determined to have a little venison for lunch, and entering through the space opened, proceeded to worry one of the smaller deers to death. The arrival of the officer above mentioned, at this juncture, put an end to his operations, and he ran yelping over the hills, the guttural vocalism being occasioned by the application of birch to his

Saturday evening the residence No. 726 Montcalm street, occupied by a Mrs. J. Russell, was entered by thieves forcing open the front door with a "jimmy." They ransacked every room in the house, ripping open bed-ticks, tearing up carpets, etc. As booty, they secured 3 sik dresses, a gold watch and chain, a Masonic mark, a set of leweiry, a white crape shawl, and a number of other articles. THE RESULT OF A SPREE.-A Hibernian named Michael Bergen yesterday indulged freely in mo-lasses whisky. Whilst walking along Market street, near lelkis, he noticed a physician's coupe standing unoccupied, into which he leaped, seized the reins, and started the attached quadruped off at a rapid gait. Now the turnout was the property of Dr. Girard, residing No. 990 Market street, who has in his employ one Joseph Skeman. Joseph was coming along Third street, when he saw the team and Mike also. Smelling a mouse, he followed as far as Third and Chesnut streets, when he had Mike arrested. Alderman Kerr this morning gave him a hearing and sent him to prison.

A PUBLIC BEQUEST.—The will of John Kingler, a recently deceased German, was admitted to probate this morning at the Register of Wills' office. He bequeaths all his movable and fixed property, amounting to $500, to the German Hospital. He advises all his friends to attend an auction at which his property will be offered, and purchase something, as thereby they will have that by which they will remember him and contribute to a public charity.

THEFT OF A BUFFALO ROBE .- About 61/2 o'clock last evening an individual named Francis Guys, whilst passing along St. John street, near Callowhill, noticed lying in a carriage a handsome buffalo robe. Being of a covetous nature, he yanked the skin, and was making of with it, when a policeman collared him, and locked him up in the Seventh District Station House. He will have a hearing to-day at the

The Disaster on the Western Pacific Railrond—Further Particulars.

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Further particulars of the disaster on the Western Pacific Railroad this morning have been received. Eleven dead bodies were recovered from the wrecked cars, and have been taken to the dead-house in Oakland. It is estimated that twenty persons were wounded. The scene of the disaster is described as heart-rending, the "telescoped" cars revealing a sickening scene of crushed humanity. Different statements are given regarding the cause of the disaster. It is alleged that the Western Pacific train was ahead of time, and should have waited at Damon's Station for the passage of the Alemeda train. Another statement attributes the fault to the station master at the point where the Alemeda and Pacific roads connect, who said that the Alemeda train was behind time and "he'd be ... if he'd wait for it," and went into the house for breakfast. While he was in the house a gravel train passed down, and he supposed it was the Western Pacific train. When the Western Pacific train came up the engineer inquired whether the Alemeda train had passed, and the station master replied, "All right; go ahead." The remains of Judge Baldwin have been removed to the residence of his brotherin-law, Mr. John Benton, in Oakland,

The San DomingeAffair. 5

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times writes as follows:—
The talk about San Domingo and its acquisition, which the Government is alleged to be now prepar-ing for, has no more basis than the following facts:

—The desire for the establishment of a protectorate originated with President Bacz himself, and Mr. Seward consented to use his efforts to induce Congress to grant the necessary authority. This he did quietly by posting the House Foreign Affairs Committee in regard to the desire of San Domingo for annexation. Pending this matter, a direct proposition for annexation was received from Baez, but not acted upon, owing to the retirement of Mr. Seward. The protectorate proposition failed in the House, notwithstanding the able advocacy of aladge Orth, of the Foreign Affairs Committee, and a simple resourstanding the able advocacy of Judge Orth, of the Foreign Ariairs Committee, and a simple resonation passed the House calling upon the President to communicate to Congress as soon as convenient all the information in his possession concerning the condition and resources of the Republic, and the reported desire of its Government and people for annexation to the United States. This will explain the mission of General Babcock to that Government, and on his return a few weeks hence, the President will be able to respond to the request of the House with the latest and fullest information.

Double Murder in Indiana.

Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.

Fig. Evansville, Ind., Nov. 15.—From Captain Tripett, of the steamer Petrolia, who prived yesterday, we learn that a woman named Gilchrist and her eldest son were found murdered in their own home, mile and a half back of Troy, Perry county, Ind., on Saturday evening, and two other children fearfully injured. The first alarm was given by the husband and father, who says he left home at 9 A. M .. and did not return till night, when he found his wife and eldest son dead and cold, and the younger children scarcely alive. He says he found dinner on the fire cooking, and infers the deed of blood was done before noon. The woman was horribly man-gled by a hatchet about the head and neck, and the eldest boy's head was broken in with the pole of the hatchet. Great excitement exists in the community, and at the early hour at which the Petrolla passed down it was impossible to gain full particu-lars. of Hayden & Balcom was destroyed by fire yesterday: also the braid mill of Webster & Miller. in the same building. The loss is $30,000, and is mostly insured.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER'S CASE,—Before United States Commissioner Henry M. Phillips, Jr., there was arraigned George Doll, toy manufacturer, North Sixth street, on the charge of having delivered to the Assessor of Internal Revenue of the Third district of Pennsylvania a return believed in the opinion of the said assessor to be false or frau-dulent, and who on being summoned before said assessor and ordered to produce his books and to give testimony relative to his business, neglected and refused so to do. The accused was held in $2000 bail for a further hearing to-morrow.

The case is a rather peculiar one, being the first of the kind ever brought before the Commissioner. The charge of fraud against Mr. Doll is merely suppositi-tious in its character. The refusal, however, to pro-duce his books is thus provided for by the Internal Revenue laws:—

"In case any person so summoned shall neglect or refuse to obey such summoned shall neglect of refuse to obey such summons, or to give testimony, or to answer interrogations as required, it shall be lawful for the assessor to apply to the Judge of the District Court or to a Commissioner of the Circuit Court of the United States for the district with in which the person so summoned resides for an at-tachment against such person as for a contempt."

The McHenry-Gould Battle in Chic Doubts
Concerning the Fidelity of Fish, Jr.
The Cincinnati Commercial has the following concerning the suit now pending against Jay Gould in ceraing the suit now pending against Jay Gould in Akron, Ohlo:—'A commotion of no ordinary character has prevailed in Akron for a few days past, growing out of the magnitude of the claims, in the shape of bonds and morigages, and other indebtedness of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway, and for the satisaction of which an order of Court is asked for the sale of the road, and growing out of the presence of several of the distinguished parties interested in the matters involved in the proceedings, accompanied by the greatest array of legal talent ever at one time convened in the Akron Court House, some of them being bright stars from the New York and Cleveland bars. J. Gould made a grand catree with a large retinue, in his private car. a grand catree with a large retinue, in his private car.
McHenry and suite were also there, together with a number of millionaires, one representing a foreign financial house, said to be second to none, except perhaps, the Rothschilds. Early last spring petitions were filed by John R. Penn and Nathaniel A. Prenwere filed by John R. Penn and Nathaniel A. Prentiss, representing the first mortgage bonds, asking for an order of Court to self the road, and that J. Gould and W. A. O'Doherty be appointed to act as Receivers. Pending the proceedings as to sale, Gould and O'Doherty were appointed as Receivers. Subsequently other bondholders and claimants filed petition, and other proceedings were that, complicating the matter very much, so that the fight had as many as four or five distinct parties pleading and being implicated. When it came up before Judge W. W. Boynton on Wednesday for action, first on a petition subsequently filed, asking the Court to remove Gould, on the ground of incompetency, he being a stockholder in and President of the Erie, Gould himself being prepared, as his attorneys said, to swear, what will astonish some folks, that he (Gould) was not interested either in the that he (Gould) was not interested either in the Eric or Atlantic and Great Western roads to the amount of one cent. After several hours spent in amount of one cent. After several hours spent in sparring and making new motions, the matter was laid over for Thursday evening. In the meantime gould and his witnesses left the State, as his party claim, with the understanding that on Friday night the matter was to be heard only on legal points, and not on questions of fact. So, when his opponents tried to corner Jay Gould on that night, there was very sharp skirkilshing by the learned and honorable gentlemen, resulting in an adjournment of the whole matter until Friday next, at 19-30 octock. November 19, at Akron. Among other matters asked for by the 19, at Akron. Among other matters asked for by the petitioners is an order to compel the Receivers to increase their bonds, which now are only $200,000 in the aggregate, while monthly, it is averred, they handle $70,000. The claims involved in these several suits amount to the sing little sum of $70,000,000, including interest due. Gould's attorney has appeared mushally nervous and excited, and on learning, as it is said, that James Fisk, Jr., and McHenry were in secret correspondence, he was heard to use strong language about Fisk. The Troubles of Eric. The Engineers Refuse to Join the Strike.

The New York Faril of this morning says:—
The strike of the brakemen upon the Eric road is virtually disposed of. The sien expected co-operation from the engineers, but this they have so far falled to receive, and each day impairs the strength of mutinous feeling among them. Most of the engineers entertain the proposition far from favorably.

They believe that the action of the men now engaged in the strike was hasty and fil-advised, and they do not have any sympathy with them.

The engineers lievt and Drew, who a few days agodelivered speeches expressing sympathy with the striking brakemen, have been indeficitely suspended striking brakemen, have been indeficitely suspended from their positions.
